

Phyrrus

You should have wished for better
Where for all the sleepless nights?
You never wanted to take care of a
Motherless child

Let me fight my battles
Let me starve and let me faint
I don't want every inch of my wasted brain
To be carefully explained

Please don't give me what I am asking for
No one knows the price that it will cost me
Please don't give me what I am asking for
One more victory and I will be lost
One more victory and I will be lost

Your touch may be solace
Your smell may be the cure for all my pain
But all of you doesn't matter
I spend years training that wasted brain

Please don't give me what I am asking for
No one knows the price that it will cost me
Please don't give me what I am asking for
One more victory and I will be lost
One more victory and I will be...

In this wide wide chest
Beats a metal heart
But all this heavy metal
Turns water into blood

Please don't give me what I am asking for
No one knows the price that it will cost me
Please don't give me what I am asking for
One more victory and I will be lost
One more victory and I will be lost
